

If you are looking for an extraordinary comedian, Dirk Denoyelle is most probably the best you can get. He is not only extremely funny, but with his Masters Degree in Electronics Engineering and amazing skills as a voice imitator and singer, he will surprise you with his versatility and mutability. Denoyelle started his career as a comedian in Flanders, Belgium, in 1991. Since 2001 his focus is on performing for companies and congresses. His passion for languages proved to be very convenient. Denoyelle speaks Dutch, English, French, German, Spanish and Danish and would not get lost in a few more. That, and the fact that he quickly adapts to the clients' demands, makes him an ideal speaker for international audiences.
